

MIXING OF THINGS (CLOTH..ANIMALS..PLANTS)

When it comes to mixing things as it is referred to in the scriptures, it opens a door that includes many things, most of us are not familiar with. Once that door is opened you will see things like never before. In the following teaching I will share things about mixing things that will help us see how all these strange things are thematically connected. I will reveal about the mixing of fabrics, seeds, as in food, plants (GMF), as well as the DNA of animals and livestock, and in the genetic properties of human beings are connected. When we look at what happens when things of various natures are mixed, it becomes very clear why Dad told us not to mix things. Mixing seeds, whether they be plant seeds or seeds of life (DNA), can cause all kinds of problems that most of us have probably never thought about.

Adonai has a reason for everything He does, and if we are following Him, we will look into everything we can that helps bring glory to His name and health to our body.

I will start out by talking about mixing things in regards to fabrics and how and why Yah told us not to do so. Let's start by having a look at a couple verses that tell us about mixing wool and linen cloth, and go on from there.

The verses in Deuteronomy and Leviticus that speak of not mixing things: two fabrics wool and linen, seed, and livestock, have always stumped me until recently. The following is the explanation that has been revealed to me.

Lev. 19:19 'You are to keep My statutes. You shall not breed together two kinds of your cattle; you shall not sow your field with two kinds of seed, nor wear a garment upon you of two kinds of material mixed together.'

Deut. 22:11 "You shall not wear a material mixed of wool and linen together. This verse is part of what is called the sundry laws, or instructions of Yah. It's important to note here the verse is very specific about not mixing wool and linen together. It doesn't say that there is anything wrong with wool as a material, it is specifying that wool, a large thick thread, should not be mixed with linen, a fine thread material.

Exactly why does Yahveh reveal to Moses that we should not mix these two fabrics is the big question we need to consider. I will explain the reason why.

It is a biblical and scientific fact that cloth has healing properties. Some types of fabric are extremely good for influencing the human body to heal, and some do harm. It was well known in ancient times but it seems somehow this simple fact was lost over time.

ELECTRONIC PROPERTIES (SIGNATURE FREQUENCY VALUE)

All materials are different forms of matter and are represented as vibrating molecules. Each material has its own signature frequency. In a fabric, for instance, that signature frequency will be determined by such things as the type of fibre, its weave, thickness, dye, etc.

Fabrics and other materials with negative frequency continually force the cells in the body to exhaust its resources by adapting to negative changes of electromagnetic influences.

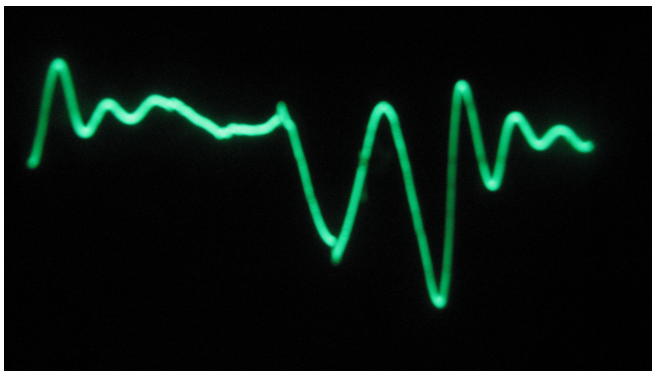

The study of the healing properties of various materials is called "signature frequency values", or "units of energy". In this study fabrics are rated with a healing value from 1 as the least to 5000 as the highest value.

Linen and wool have been proven to be the highest rated fabrics for healing purposes because of their reaction to the electronic properties of the human structure. Linen and wool are rated at a value of 5000 for healing properties. Linen and wool work together with the electromagnetic properties of our body in a very positive way, which inhibits the natural healing of the human body. Polyester, acrylic, spandex, lycra, viscose and nylon measure zero. Then rayon 15, and cotton 100, and so on upwards.

Plant fibre's like cotton and hemp are not a healing fibre when measuring its signature energy output. Standard bleached and colored cotton measures 40 units of energy. The good news is that Organic unbleached cotton measures 100 units of energy which is a 'normal' but not a healing fibre. The silk fabric measures 10 units of energy which would fail to support health in the human body. Could it be a low number because of its origin? Silk is produced from an 'unclean' insect.

For any individual desiring to be well, the best recommendation from the instructions of the Holy Scriptures is to wear linen or wool, but never together. Although they are both the highest rated healing fabrics, when worn together it was found that they cancel each other out so to speak, and create a negative value. The Biblical warning of wearing wool and linen together has been proven in scientific studies to be accurate: the energy of these two fabrics put together (wool sweater on top of a linen outfit) collapsed the electrical field as well as wearing of black colored fabric.

100% wool is a fabric that breathes, is quite water resistant, and has great insulation value. Wool is organic, it breathes much better than cotton, but neither compare to linen. Strictly from a common sense point of view, we know that thick strands of fabric (wool) do not mix well with thin strands (linen), so this is also what Deut. 22:11 is pointing out to us.

LINEN

Linen is a natural fibre, high lustre textile, woven out of fibre's from the flax plant. It's labor-intensive and time-consuming to manufacture, therefore it's more expensive than cotton or other common apparel fabrics, but it's well worth it!

Linen is the strongest of the vegetable fibre's, being 2 or 3 times stronger than cotton, with the added bonus of not shrinking or creating lint like cotton does! Linen fabric is highly durable and long-lasting.

Linen can withstand high temperatures and is also resistant to moths. The lighter weight linens breathe very well and drape the body beautifully (it's never clingy). It's very flowy and soft against the skin (especially hanky weight). Linen apparel is a wonderful choice for people with sensitive skin. Linen just gets softer and softer with each washing too.

And nothing helps keep you cool like linen on scorching hot afternoons in the summer. Linen clothes can be a lifesaver for menopausal/post-menopausal ladies suffering from hot flashes too. Linen is highly absorbent, great for rapidly removing body perspiration and dispelling moisture. It's also a good conductor of heat and feels cool to the touch.

Other noteworthy tidbits: Egyptian mummies were wrapped in linen because it was seen as a symbol of light and purity, and as a display of wealth. Worn by Egyptian, Greek, and Jewish priests as a symbol of purity, it also typified luxury. Another interesting tidbit is that linen was sometimes used as currency in ancient Egypt and has been recovered from Egyptian tombs over 3,500 years old.

Linen comes in a variety of thickness, known as "weights." There's hanky weight (like Irish linen), which is a very fine texture, it's the softest and lightest, and it's slightly sheer when held up against the light. This weight is ideal for hot summers, but also seems to have the most "give" so it tends to stretch out a little bit. There's light weight, which is also very soft. But the light weight offers the comfort and floppiness without the sheerness factor to worry about your undergarments showing through.

There's medium weight, which is often characterized by a bit rougher surface with nubby areas that give it more texture. This weight is a bit stiffer than hanky and light weight. Medium weight is preferable for more moderate and cooler temperatures, as it will keep you warmer than hanky weight or light weight linen. Subsequently, it doesn't breathe quite as well as the lighter weights.

Then there's heavy weight, which is a coarser fabric, preferable for cold months so you can live in linen year-round. However, you can obtain the same level of warmth by simply adding more layers of lighter weight pieces. By adding layers in lighter weights, you improve breathability and fabric softness.

Linen has been scientifically proven to have healing properties. For example, linen is exclusively used in operating rooms and it is the only natural material utilized for internal sutures in a surgical setting. When wearing 100% linen, many individuals have testified that their healing was rapid. Post injury or surgical pain was substantially reduced (without the use of prescription or over the counter drugs) when using linen bandages and wearing linen clothing.

Health benefits of wearing linen apparel:

- Flax fabric is an excellent filter protecting against chemical exposure, noise and dust.
- Linen clothing reduces solar gamma radiation by almost half thereby protecting humans wearing linen.
- Flax fibre is totally resistant to harmful radiation.
- Linen underwear heightens positive emotions as well as possessing rare bacteriological properties.
- Resistant to fungus and bacteria, flax is found to be an effective barrier to some diseases.
- According to Japanese researchers, studies have shown that bed-ridden patients do not develop bedsores where linen bed sheets are used.
- Wearing linen clothes helps to decrease some skin diseases - from common rashes to chronic eczema's.
- Linen is highly "hygroscopic" - meaning it rapidly absorbs and gives up moisture. Absorbing water as quickly as a pond surface, before giving a feeling of being wet, linen cloth can absorb as much as 20% of its dry weight. This explains why linen cloth always feels fresh and cool.
- Linen is not known to cause allergic reactions and is helpful in treating a number of allergic disorders.
- Linen is effective in dealing with inflammatory conditions, reducing fever, and providing a healthy air exchange.
- Linen cloth does not accumulate static electricity.
- Linen possesses high air permeability and heat. The heat conductivity of linen is 5 times higher than wool and 19 times than silk. In hot weather, those dressed in linen clothing are found to have a lower skin temperature than others wearing silk or cotton garments. According to some studies, a person wearing linen clothes perspires 1.5 times less than when dressed in cotton clothes, and twice less than when dressed in viscose clothes. Meanwhile, in cold weather, linen works in reverse, proving ideal for retaining warmth.

HISTORICAL USE

Since the earliest times, flax (from which linen is made), has been known to have healing properties. The Holy Scriptures certainly emphasized this material over all other fabrics for the Holy attire. The original Hebrew language gives the attire of Adam and Eve as a linen robe of light (Gen. 3:21). In establishing the protocols 'statutes' of health, the prophet Moses received specific instructions. Cleansing a 'leper' meaning those 'incurable' gave only three distinct fabrics of attire: wool, linen, or leather (Lev. 13:47-48). It was emphasized as forbidden to wear linen and wool together (Lev. 19:19 and Deut. 22:11)

Historically, the beautiful white linen attire of the Hebrew people was with the Almighty's specific instructions, the decisions as given in the 'Torah' as ordinances (Exod. 39:1-31).

From a simple common sense point of view; fabrics with threads finer or larger in size, like wool and linen, should not be mixed together for the simple reason that they don't fit properly together because of their different thicknesses. You wouldn't take different strengths (thicknesses) of chain or rope and link them together, so why would we do such a thing with fabric which needs to be strong. This of course clearly points us to not having an ox and donkey plowing together idea explained in Deut. 22:10.

BIBLICAL REFERENCES TO LINEN

In our bible we see linen symbolically representing righteousness. Rev. 19:8 "And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and bright: For fine linen is the righteousness of Saints"

Considering that our torah is connected directly with agriculture, it is easy to understand why flax, a material made from a plant grown from the ground, is so incredible. The linen fabric breathes freely, which is why it is so desirable to wear. This breath, so to speak, is also representative of the Ruach Hakodesh, (Holy Spirit) in our fleshly bodies, in turn representative of the temple within.

In the description of the Tabernacle, which formed the central point of worship for the tribes of Israel, the historical record tells us that the curtains were of fine linen. Linen was used for the garments of the priests of the nation. They were holy and glorious to look at. Exod. 28:2-5 "And you shall make holy garments for Aaron your brother, for glory and for beauty. "And you shall speak to all the skilful persons whom I have endowed with the spirit of wisdom, that they make Aaron's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister as priest to Me. 4 "And these are the garments which they shall make: a breast piece and an ephod and a robe and a tunic of checkered work, a turban and a sash, and they shall make holy garments for Aaron your brother and his sons, that he may minister as priest to Me. "And they shall take the gold and the blue and the purple and the scarlet material and the fine linen."

The garments of the Priests in the Temple were always made from linen. These white garments were sanctified and made holy so they could be worn by all priests working in the Temple. When these linen garments became too soiled, worn out, or damaged, they were shredded up, and then woven into wicks, used in the Temple menorah. The garments were treated very special in every way from start to finish.

On Yom Kippur the High Priest alone entered the Holy of Holies, to make atonement for his house and for the people (Lev. 16); on that occasion he wore white linen garments. Aaron, the high priest, entered the holy place, he put on a holy linen coat-and girdle, and upon his head was a linen cap. This shows the unique place held by linen in the history of ancient times, and the reverence accorded it is further demonstrated in the Renewed Testament. Here it states that when the Revelation of things to come was revealed to John, the seven angels, who held in their hands the past and future of mankind, were clothed in pure and white linen. Then a final quotation from the same Book of Revelation actions informs us that the garments of those chosen for eternal life and happiness will be of fine linen. The use of linen for priestly vestments was not confined to the ancient Israelites. During the birth of the Messiah, we know that linen was a common fabric used by the people and the Temple because of its purity.

Luke 23:50-53 And a man named Joseph, who was a member of the Council, a good and righteous man 51 (he had not consented to their plan and action), a man from Arimathea, a city of the Jews, who was waiting for the kingdom of Yah; 52 this man went to Pilate and asked for the body of Yeshua. 53 And he took it down and wrapped it in a linen cloth, and laid Him in a tomb cut into the rock, where no one had ever lain. Here we see that Yeshua Himself was wrapped in a linen garment at the time of His burial. Yeshua was the High priest of the order of Melchizedek. If this doesn't support the biblical significance of linen nothing will.

Something else that I find interesting is a historical fact that linen was used as armor for soldiers. The brass, steel and bronze that some soldiers attempted to use as protection was far too heavy to be practical. It was quite good as far as protection was concerned, but it was simply too heavy to be practical. It was found that multiple layers of linen was far superior for armor and was very light compared to metal. When this was realized, it was worn by most all front line warriors.

Now let's look at the following verses that also speak of this special fabric for confirmation of what we now know:

Gen. 41:42 *"Then Pharaoh took off his signet ring from his hand, and put it on Joseph's hand, and clothed him in garments of fine linen, and put the gold necklace around his neck.”

Lev. 6:10 “And the priest is to put on his linen robe, and he shall put on undergarments next to his flesh; and he shall take up the ashes to which the fire reduces the burnt offering on the altar, and place them beside the altar.”

Rev. 15:6 “and the seven angels who had the seven plagues came out of the temple, clothed in linen, clean and bright, and girded around their breasts with golden girdles.”

Rev. 19:14 “And the armies which are in heaven, clothed in fine linen, white and clean, were following Him on white horses”

Rev. 19:8 “And it was given to her to clothe herself in fine linen, bright and clean; for the fine linen is the righteous acts of the saints.”

2Sam. 6:14 “And David was dancing before ADONAI with all his might, and David was wearing a linen ephod.”

Ezek. 44:17-18 “And it shall be that when they enter at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments; and wool shall not be on them while they are ministering in the gates of the inner court and in the house. 18 “Linen turbans shall be on their heads, and linen undergarments shall be on their loins; they shall not gird themselves with anything which makes them sweat.”

MIXING LIVESTOCK

Lev. 19:19 ‘You are to keep My statutes. You shall not breed together two kinds of your cattle; you shall not sow your field with two kinds of seed, nor wear a garment upon you of two kinds of material mixed together.

We have already had revealed the healing properties of cloth materials, now we will look into the first part of this verse in regards to the mixing of animals and seeds.

Now let's look at some biblical examples of mixed livestock and see what we find out about them.

The donkey was a very prominent useful animal in biblical times. When the male donkeys (jack) breed unnaturally with a female horse (mare), the resulting unclean offspring was a mule, also called a jackass, or ass. These offspring cannot procreate (reproduce), because of this mixing of seed. They are sterile. This is what happens when mixing things, they become sterile, mutant, blemished, and their very nature unpredictable, whether they be animal or plant. It is the mixing of two species that are not meant to be put together and this unnatural act produces sterility. When these things do happen in nature, and it can happen in rare cases, nature has its way of destroying these mixed things to keep the corruption from spreading.

Note: The reason we see the word “mule” used in scripture is simply because the translators didn't want to use the word “ass”. It is the only word always used describing a beast of burden. King David would not have had a mule in his possession. The translated word simply means a beast of burden.

By extension this includes cross species breeding of domestic livestock and animals that is unnatural. We see deadly examples of this mixing of seed in animals such as Doberman Pinschers and Pit-bulls. The Pit-Bull Terrier is a perfect example of a hybrid dog that is totally unpredictable and very dangerous. Enough studies have been done now to prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that pit-bulls are a deadly menace to mankind and are responsible for the death of thousands of innocent people, especially children, around the globe. These hybrids, especially Doberman Pinschers and Pit Bull Terriers, are perfect vessels that Satan uses to stage his demons. Satan uses these unclean hybrids as fleshly physical launching pads of muscle and bone to destroy and kill things in their path. The devil is the one behind the development of all this unnatural corruption of species. He is the one promoting businesses who are involved in commercially making money off mankind in such an improper unnatural manner.

MIXING SEED

As noted in that Leviticus 19:19 verse: “you shall not sow your field with two kinds of seed,” the same scenario applies to plants that are mixed and cross bred in unnatural ways. It is true that many plants are mixed and become super naturally productive, but that is not Yah's way of doing things. Most are aware of the controversy of Monsanto canola seed that has caused havoc in the agricultural areas in many parts of the world. Monsanto has specially bred (genetically altered...mixed) canola to be resistant to particular insecticides and pesticides that farmers use to protect their crops. The monster seed they have created allows those farmers growing that brand of canola, to use various chemicals on the plant without the natural harmful reactions, resulting in a more abundant but less healthy seed for canola oil. Examples of similar mixing of seed can be found in almost every commercial fruit and vegetable on the market, from plums to potatoes. This mixing of seed may have what seems to be great advantages of the producers of these products, but in its wake we see the production of natural seeds for gardening, disappearing. This situation has become so critical that Nations have come together and built a special concrete storage facility in the Antarctic where natural seeds from millions of plants are being stored. This is being done in order to maintain some original stock for years down the road when all the hybrids cause total collapse and chaos in the growing of vegetable, fruit and grain crops. They can see this coming and are already preparing for it. How sad is that?

GMF (genetically modified foods..humans..clones)

humans because he knows it will destroy the original plan of life for all mankind. He knows that hybrids, whether they be plant, animal or human, could evolve and cause the destruction of all that was created. The genes, the DNA, etc. will cause havoc among all creation as they intermingle with the original created pure source.

If cloning continues and grows, then the devil is able to look at these sterile monsters and he is not reminded of Yah's creation, only the demise of Yah's creation. Satan can't stand looking at human beings because they are part of Yah's creation. Every time he sees a human he sees the face of Yah because we were made in His (Adam's) image.

Hermaphrodites

Now let's look at an uncomfortable subject that has been emphasized in the last few years, the subject of hermaphrodites. 1 in every 1500-2000 babies are born in an intersexual state (noticeably atypical in terms of genitalia) where experts are called in to access the situation. This is approximately .033-.05% of the population.

Hermaphroditism includes true hermaphroditism and pseudohermaphroditism. Normal human females are genetically XX and have ovaries. Normal human males are genetically XY and have testes. True hermaphrodites have both ovarian and testicular tissue present in their bodies. As a result of the hormonal effects of these conflicting tissues, a wide variety of external appearances may result. Pseudohermaphrodite's have either ovaries or testes, but their external appearance does not match their actual genetic gender. A variety of defects can cause these conditions, but the common denominator of them involves an effect on the developing embryo long before birth.

The genetic gender of a baby is determined at the moment of fertilization. The DNA blueprint for sexual organ development is selected in accordance with the XX or XY genotype. As with many other birth defects, hermaphroditism can result from either an abnormality in the DNA itself or a defect in development as the organs take shape. God chose to use the same design for both male and female humans in the earliest stages of embryonic development. Under the influence of the hormones and the DNA blueprint, certain basic tissues are formed into either male or female structures and certain tissues regress. Embryologists call those building blocks destined to develop into "female" structures the Mullerian duct system, and those building blocks destined for "male" structures are the Wolffian duct system.

Maybe the thousands of people we hear about every year in the news that don't feel comfortable in the sexual body they have been born into, are in fact part of the genealogy of the sons of God of the past. Maybe that is why they want gender changes, implants and organ removals. Maybe their DNA has caused this confusion in their flesh along with the generational curses.

STRANGE ANIMALS, PLANTS

The reality is, we have many strange plant and animal strains that have been developed for various reasons in many industries in this day and age. Genetically modified cattle, pigs, fish and goats are being produced for a variety of uses. Some produce pharmaceuticals in their milk or blood. Others are resistant to diseases such as mad cow or produce healthier meat or milk. Scientists have found a way to create medicine using proteins extracted from the milk of genetically engineered goats, cows and rabbits. We also have very strange mutant animals and plants that have come to our attention over the years because of various birth defects and abnormalities.

We have Spider goats for example. These goats are genetically modified with the DNA of huge spiders. The milk obtained from these goats is manufactured using synthetic biology, in a way that creates a type of SUPER string or fabric called "spider silk" that has strength and durability which exceeds even kevlar and other man made fabrics.

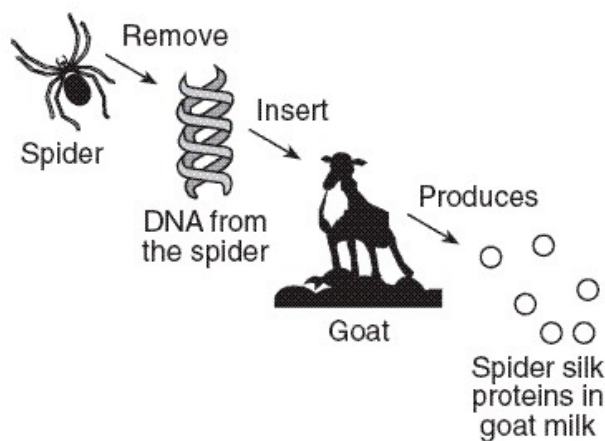

We have an eight legged "octogoat" for example born to a rancher by the name of Zoran Paporic in Croatia. This goat had both male and female sex organs.

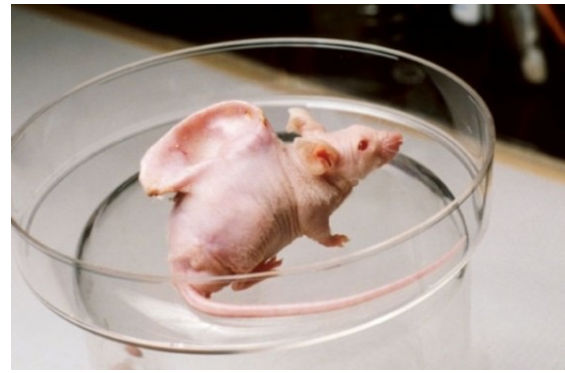

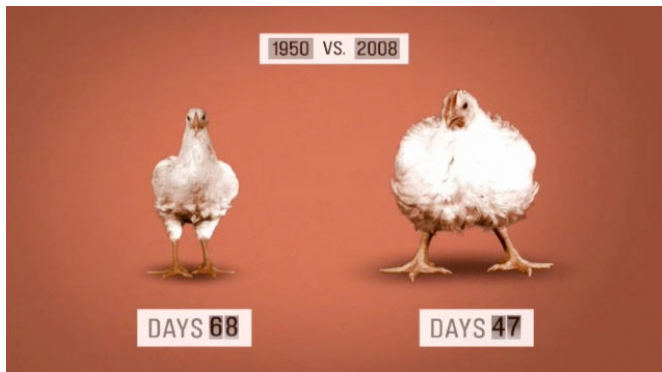

Perhaps the most famous real-live Frankenstein's Monster of its day, the so-called Vacanti Mouse was created by scientists in Massachusetts in 1995 to grow what appeared to be a human ear on its back. The scientists were hoping to demonstrate that it was possible to get living creatures to grow cartilage structures that could then be used for transplants onto human patients. The Ear Mouse, which quickly became famous and was featured on the Jay Leno show, was used instead in the late '90s as a poster-mouse, so to speak, for groups opposed to genetically modifying animals.

The FDA is now allowing genetically engineered salmon, which grow nearly twice as fast as regular salmon, into supermarkets and onto dinner tables. These special salmon are the first officially genetically engineered food to become a part of the human food supply (although there have been some isolated slip-ups in the past). Advocates say the fast-growing salmon would be a boom to some fish farmers, while critics argue that they would be bad for the environment, the health of salmon populations, and for humans who may get fewer nutrients and more allergens from the food.

MIXING WATER

Rev. 3:14-16 “To the angel of the church in Laodicea write: (The Amen), the faithful and true Witness, the Beginning of the creation of Yahveh, says this: ‘I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot; I wish that you were cold or hot. So because you are lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spit you out of My mouth. I would like to address a major misconception in verses 15-16. This text has been used in such sermons entitled “The Hot, Cold, and Lukewarm Believers.” These sermons equate these three temperatures (hot, cold, and lukewarm) to represent three types of so-called Believers; the “on fire” Christian, and the “cold” and “lukewarm Christians”. This, however, is a misinterpretation of the historical context of these verses. Let me explain. The city of Laodicea was known for its intricate water system. They had hot and cold water channeled into the city. The hot water was used for bathing, etc., and the cold water, was used for drinking purposes. Sometimes the hot water would get mixed with the cold water creating lukewarm water. Messiah uses this natural illustration to teach a valuable spiritual lesson. Hot water is useful, and serves a purpose, and cold water is useful, and serves a purpose, but lukewarm water is an inconvenience, and serves no real purpose. When strangers came into Laodicea they would drink of the water that was lukewarm and they would vomit. Yeshua knew of this and therefore used the vomiting as a good example of what spiritual life is about, for those who aren't serious. The Believers in Laodicea were neither hot, nor cold, they were lukewarm.

Messiah admonishes them to be either hot or cold, but not tepid. This text is not talking about three different spiritual levels of Believers. This text is only addressing two types of Believers, those who are being used by Yahveh (hot and cold) and those who are not being used by Yahveh (lukewarm).

Many of the people of Laodicea were famous for their garment district and for their eye-salve. These two things made them renowned in all nations. The “eye salve” in verse 18 is referring to their renowned eye salve in a mocking manner. The Laodiceans also thought they were rich, when in fact, they were poor, wretched, pitiable, blind, and naked (Rev. 3:17). Many churches today have forfeited the possibility of spiritual blessings for monetary gains. Quite often we fail to see our own spiritual depravity. It's only when we stand in front of the mirror of Truth that we see ourselves for what we are. When you take cold water and mix it with hot water you end up with luke warm water which is the mixing of water. Luke warm water is almost useless. This also prophetic of the mixing of the spirits as we have seen for many years now in the charismatic type churches. These businesses (commonly incorrectly called churches), honor the counterfeit spirit and get involved in all kinds of demonic activity such as "slain in the spirit", "shaking and laughing uncontrollably", "rolling around on the floor", and "seeing gold dust and gold that isn't there". These demonic phenomena's have nothing to do with the true Ruach Hakodesh (Holy Spirit) who is always holy. Millions of people are being mislead by Christian snake oil salesman calling themselves pastors, making a lot of money entertaining demons in the name of their god. The constant passing around of the bucket and the begging for "love offerings" for the false prophets presenting this nonsense, is big business, don't ever kid yourself. Sometimes true Believers in the God of Abraham are innocently mixed in with the christian crowd and the mixing of spirits occurs.

Note: Did you know Monsanto (Bayer) gets its name from a Temple of the "Knights Templar" (Order of Christ) secret society, in the municipality of Indanha-a-Nova in Tomar, Portugal.

In the same manner that we are warned about the mixing of seeds, cloth and animals, we must realize that there is an incredible symbolic message here. That message is in regards to the mixing of spirits which is very common in many of today's charismatic churches. Mixing of spirits, the counterfeit with the real holy spirit, creates confusion and spiritual sterility for millions of people around the world. This mixing creates hybrid religions that produce no fruit whatsoever. If the Believers of Yah and Yeshua have no fruit being produced from their trees than it may be because they are hybrids. Let us all go back to the original seed planted as the Torah of the Most High. Let Yeshua's Spirit inside us supply that pure spring water of life to allow us to always produce heavy and abundant crops of the many fruits of the spirit.

In conclusion, what may seem like a very difficult concept of not mixing things as per Yah's word in Lev. 19:19, and Deut. 22:11, is in fact proven to be an incredibly intelligent thing to do even in the eye of science and simple logic. It may at first seem like a trivial statement to be made about the mixing of various things, but when we delve into it we see that Yah never fails to be way out in front of us with His wisdom and knowledge. It shows us just how important we are to Him. That He would go through that much trouble to create things in such a specific way and tell us how to deal with it, is something the human mind can simply not fully grasp. He loves us that much, that even in the plants and animals of the earth He has created a built in mechanism to make sure all clean animals and foods He has created are good and healthy for our bodies so that life can be preserved. This is the kind of Yah I serve.

To summarize everything in regards to mixing things, it all comes down to this. The Bible is our instruction manual. If we truly have faith in the God of it and do as He instructs, we will be blessed. If we ignore His instructions and mix things up, we will be cursed. These curses can and have already manifested as mutant, sterile, harmful tasteless, of no nutritional value, facsimiles of genuine food (genetic monsters), that do nothing but harm for all creation. They are like a malignant cancer eating its way through society, causing mental and physical illnesses that have caused chaos in people all over the world. If you want health and well being all you have to do is OBEY what He told us to do over and over in His Living Word. Eccl. 12:13 *The conclusion, when all has been heard, is: fear Yahveh and keep His commandments, because this applies to every person.
