

GEMATRIA...NUMBERS...PROPHETIC MEANING

Every letter in Hebrew has a number assigned to it. The letters are used as numbers because they each represent a specific number. This is called gematria. This only applies to biblical times and biblical era Hebrew.

In gematria there are four perfect numbers:

3 denotes divine (death, burial and resurrection) perfection

7 denotes spiritual (rest, completion) perfection

10 denotes ordinal (related to order in a series) perfection

12 denotes governmental perfection

Gematria is the use of Hebrew letters as numbers for writing purposes. In ancient times for example they used the letter "Yod" to represent 10, the letter "Nun" to represent 50, the letter "Oof" to represent 100, and so on. This is a very basic biblical principal when used in its simple form, but many will take this understanding into mystic heights and look for the total number values of various words to come up with mystical values like 666 and 888. Most people who learn about Hebrew gematria realize its importance in understanding the remez of scripture, but to take it beyond that level into mystic meanings is part of the kabalah system. Using it in this mystic way takes one into secret codes and mystic understanding of words and phrases that are written simply as words or idioms. Who hasn't heard of the secret codes talked about by conspirators all over the world in the satanic secret societies like the Masons, Illuminati, and Knights of Columbus? This is another side of kabalah that is being used by those into the mystic side off the deep end of reality. These are the new Timothy Leary's of the world.

HEBREW THINKING

True Hebrew accounting of numbers compared to the western worlds accounting: (confusion of last days, end times scenarios)

When you count to ten, you start out with the number 1. Most people when they explain 1-10, have 10 items they refer to, or demonstrate. When you start out with 1 using this method, you establish 1 before it actually came to be. What happened to 0-1? To get to 1, you must first start with 0. 0 is the starting point, not 1. From 1-2, now we have 2, and on and on. The period of time commonly established as 1 didn't start at 1, it started at 0, the actual time between 0 and 1 is 1. 0 to 1 is the substance of the first year. The substance of the first year doesn't begin just because you called it 1, it began at 0.

So when you look at the last day or decade, you look at the one you call the tenth, when actually the 10th is part of the next set of numbers. 10 is actually in the first year of the next set. When we get to the year 6000 we are actually counting toward the first year of the next set of numbers (millennium..6001), it is not the 6000th year. Another simple example of numbers and time is seen in our counting of years. In the 1900's everything that happened was said to have happened in the 20th century. Why was it called the 20th century, when in fact it happened in the 1900's? See the confusion. When we have this pointed out we see a twist in the way numbers are defined, but this is actually mathematically correct. The western way of counting is not.

This is the reason why in the Hebrew counting of age, we have a discrepancy, compared to our western way of thinking. The moment you're born in Hebrew thinking, you are one year old because you are between 0 and 1. The baby has been alive in one particular year. Whereas in western culture we say that you have to of completed one year of life.

To understand the weightier things in prophesy, we must understand the gematria of the Hebrew language. Each of the 22 Hebrew letters represents a number. So letters can be used for numbering.

The Hebrew gematria numbers attached to the Hebrew letters are as follows:

1 Aleph stands for singular, ("echad") unity in Hebrew. One cannot be divided. One represents the beginning, the unity of Abba, completeness, which we see in the Shema (Deut. 6:4).

2 Bet stands for 2. It represents" showing a difference, testimony. It also stands for the two Houses of Israel (Ephraim and Yahudah).

3 Gimel stands for 3. In gematria, the number 3, 30, 300, etc., or even numbers multiplied or divisible by 3, are always associated with the death, burial, and resurrection of Yeshua. Past, present, future.

4 Dalet is 4. Four denotes earth or creation, stability. Four seasons: spring, summer, fall, winter, four elements: air, fire, earth and water.

5 Hey is 5. Five is the number of grace, torah, is the first five books, five fingers on each hand, and the five senses of the human body (touch, taste, smell, eyesight, hearing).

6 Vav is 6. It is related to all men, in particular the first and second Adam. The number 6 is connected to man, therefore we know that "vav" the letter is connected to man. Vav is the nail that connects the heavens through Yeshua to the cedar stake (earth).

7 Zayin is 7. The number seven and multiples of it is by far the most important number in scripture. The number seven is mentioned about 500 times in the bible. it represents:divine perfection, completion, days in a week, 7 x 7 is a jubilee year, 7 attributes (spirits) of Yah, branches on the menorah, the day Yah rested after

In these measurements we see that Yah was pointing out that the very foundation of the Temple was righteousness in both directions, which is found in the torah.

100 Koof is 100. One hundred is the number that deals with the election of Yah's chosen ones. 10 represents perfection, ordinal order, 10 times 10 represents the fullness of perfection and power (yod and aleph). Abraham was 100 when Isaac was born.

expectation, something not complete. You will find that in almost every instance the number 20 is used in the bible, they are thematically connected.

20 times 10 is 200. 200 is related to things in a state of insufficiency.

SUMMARY

In conclusion, if we have a good understanding of the Hebrew gematria numbers and other numbers found in various scrolls of our Good Book, we will get a far better understanding of the picture or prophesy being revealed. These numbers may be telling us something "between the lines" so to speak. These numbers often represent special things that we need to pay close attention to. These things are often called the "weightier" things.

Some people claim that there are hidden codes in the bible, but this is not really the case. The Hebrew letters, words, and numbers are what makes the Living Word of Elohim come alive. It is not a code, so to speak, it is the ability of us to understand and use the four levels of torah study, (p'shat, remez, drash, and sod), to see the picture being revealed with the Hebrew letters and numbers. You might say it takes singular slides (still pictures), and attaches them together into a moving picture. Those moving pictures reveal to us more of the mysteries and secrets of Yah's Word. We have all heard the phrase "Yah works in mysterious ways", well, this is a great example of what that is referring to.
