

SECRET SOCIETIES [PART 3 OF 4]

To even begin to grasp how the Occult Secret Societies work, one needs to understand the basis of all occult beliefs. One must understand that among the occult insiders, Lucifer is the true son of God, Jesus is a second son who was defeated by the first one who had been thrown out. So Lucifer is the true luminary, the victor in the battle, and will be the one who will be worshipped at the end of time. That is what occult doctrine teaches, and always has taught. Behind all these Brotherhood's, is the same master. They may call him by various names and titles, but he is the Devil.

In Secret Societies there are always two doctrines, one for the initiated, and one for the goyim, the uninitiated. They are a circle within a circle, or within multiple circles. Those on the bottom levels support in various ways, usually by appearing to volunteer their services for the public to see, or directly with money. The ignorant club members at the bottom support those in the upper levels, or inner circles.

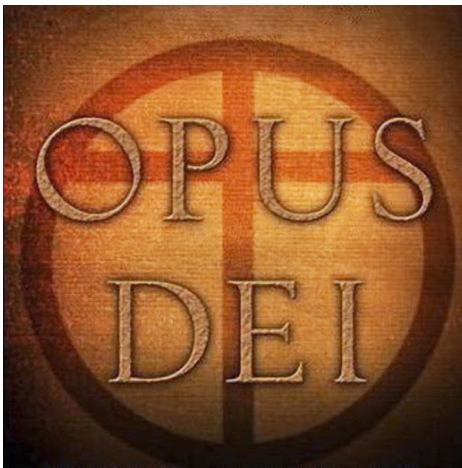

They all have two doctrines, the one inside the esoteric occult doctrine, and the other one was the exoteric, the one to the outside. That is exactly what Catholicism is. The masses receive a religion which the obviously occult, because they like traditions that have no restrictions, no-matter how crazy it is. As long as they can get their ears tickled and don't have to obey anything written in the Word of the Holy One of Israel, they can and do remain blind to the world around them. Once they bite into the fruit of that Mystery Religion, they ingest demons, and from that point on the demons keep them from learning the truth that would set them free. It is Lucifer's church and his demons are his army. That demonic army uses supernatural weapons of warfare to battle for his Jesuits. They do the dirty work of the Devil by using the Jesuit witches, and the Jesuits in turn get all the other Secret Societies, businesses of the world, (financial institutions, governments, arts & entertainment industries, and media, etc.), to control the world for them. It's all about a OWO/NWO (One World Order/New World Order), with Satan as the CEO. Satan is called the god of this world, and that explains why the Secret Societies are often simply called "The Order" by those in the higher echelon.

OPUS DEI

The Opus Dei are a semi-secret religious lay order whose paramount objective is total support of the papacy of the Catholic Church (the Council of Trent). Its members have dedicated themselves, with their personal and corporate wealth, to be the blind instruments of the church (the Jesuit General).

The following is a very brief explanation of the secret society of the Opus Dei:

Josemaria Escriva de Balaguer is the Spanish founder of Opus Dei. He was formally declared a saint by the Pope John Paul in August of 2002.

.....Opus Dei is Latin and stands for "The work of God"

.....A secretive sect within the Vatican system, who's influence is like the Jesuits. They hold many offices within the Vatican, including the Popes press secretary.

.....It was formed during the Spanish civil war.

.....A former FBI director Louis Freech is one of the prominent members of Opus Dei in Washington. Also, the well known convicted Russian spy, Robert Hanssen.

.....It is a lay organization with Roman Catholic society.

.....The head of Opus Dei in Rome is Javier Echevarria, a bishop.

.....Opus Dei has segregated Catholic men and women in their membership.

.....They claim only about 3,000 members in the United States, yet recently opened a $43 million, 17 story headquarters in Manhattan.

.....Its student centres are located near private campuses that includes Harvard, Columbia, Princeton, and Notre Dame.

.....They have many other organizations under their covering. Some are "Woodlawn Foundation" and "National Centre Foundation".

.....They claim 84,000 members worldwide, whereas the largest order of Jesuits is about 42,000. Their members are called "supernumeraries".

.....About 25,000 supernumeraries make vows similar to that of nuns and monks. These 25,000 vow to be celebrate and give all their earnings to Opus Dei. They are segregated from each other (male and female) but often live in a commune type community.

BOHEMIAN GROVE

What is the Bohemian Grove?

The Bohemian Grove is a 2700 acre redwood forest, located in Monte Rio, CA. The all male Bohemian Grove Secret Society is described as "the worlds most prestigious summer camp", situated 75 miles north of San Fransisco. It contains accommodation for 2000 people to camp in luxury. It is owned by the Bohemian Club. At the camp the men appear naked but the Princes of the club wear papal apparel.

What is the Bohemian Club?

The Bohemian Club is a private all male club, which is headquartered in the Bohemian building in San Francisco. It was formed in 1872 by men who sought shelter from the frontier culture (or lack of culture).

Who are the present members?

The Club has evolved into an association of rich and powerful men, mostly of this country (there are similar organizations in other countries). Some artists are allowed to join (often at reduced rates), because of their social status and entertainment value. The membership list has included every Republican U.S. president (as well as some Democrats) since 1923, many cabinet officials, directors, and CEOs of large corporations, including major financial institutions.

What industries are represented among the members?

Major military contractors, oil companies, banks including the Federal Reserve), utilities (including nuclear power), and national media (broadcast and print) have high-ranking officials as club members or guests. Many members are, or have been, on the board of directors of several of these corporations. You should note that most of the above industries depend heavily on a relationship with government for their profitability.

To give you an idea of how important the ideas backed by these occult members in this society, the following is one huge example of their influence and significance all over the world. This is the first place John Robert Oppenheimer brought forward the idea of what was soon to be called "The Manhattan Project". This is the beginning of the Nuclear weapons age that resulted in the total destruction of the City of Hiroshima, Japan August 6, 1945. This SECRET was so significant that the three cities where the scientists developed this bomb: Hanford (located in the Washington state desert), Oak Ridge (in the hills of eastern Tennessee), and Los Alamos (in Northern New Mexico), never appeared on any maps. They were known by the Secret Society members that originated the project, only as city "X", "Y", and "Z". Yes, this is where Secret Society members got the idea (from Satan), and created the ultimate demonic project every placed in the hands of evil men, got its start. Just more proof that the devil is behind all Secret Societies no-matter what they are disguised as.

THE CAMP MEMBERS

The members stay in different camps at the Grove, which have varying status levels. Members and frequent guests of the most prestigious camp (Mandalay) have included, or do include: Henry Kissinger, George P Shultz, (statesman, diplomat), S. D. Bechtel, Jr., (Billionaire), Gerald R Ford, (Pres.), Thomas Watson Jr. (IBM), Fred Hartley, (pianist/conductor), Merv Griffin, (Enter), Phillip Hawley (physician), William Casey (CIA), William French Smith, (US Attorney General), Arnold Schwarzenegger, (Actor), Henry Kissinger, (Pol), William Randall Hurst, David Rockefeller, John E Swearington, (SC Education), Casper W Weinberger, (Republican Statesmen), Justin Dart, William E Simon, (philanthropist), and Ralph Bailey (Dupont).

George H W Bush lived in a less prestigious camp (Hillbillies camp) with A. W. Clausen (World Bank), Garfield Thomas Haywood, (Pentecostal preacher), Joseph Coors, (Beer Maker), Edward Teller, (nuclear physicist), Ronald Regan, (Pres.) (Owl's Nest camp), Walter Cronkite, (News Anchor), and William F Buckley, (political commentator), and Richard Nixon (President).

It takes 33 years on the waiting list to join this cult group. Can you even imagine hundreds of so-called men, prominent politicians, Presidents, Prime Ministers, and business tycoons, all running around naked like boys?

What activities take place at the grove?

The grove is the site of a two week retreat every July (as well as other smaller get-togethers throughout the year). At these retreats, the members commune with nature in a truly original way. They drink heavily from morning through the night, bask in their freedom to urinate on the redwoods, and perform pagan rituals including the "Cremation of Care, ceremony", in which the members wearing red-hooded robes, cremate a coffin effigy of Dull Care (the accumulated stresses, boredoms, and sins accumulated by each Bohemian during the past year), at the base of a 40 foot owl altar. Some (20%) engage in homosexual activity (but few of them support gay rights or AIDS research).

They watch (and participate in) plays and comedy shows in which women are portrayed by male actors. Although women are not allowed in the Grove, members often leave at night to enjoy the company of the many prostitutes who come from around the world for this event. Is any of this hard to believe? Employees of the Grove have said that no verbal description can accurately portray the bizarre behavior of the Groves inhabitants.

Besides this type of merriment, the annual gathering serves as an informational clearing house for the elite. The most powerful men in the country do their networking here, despite the Groves motto weaving spiders come not here (don't do business in the Grove). At these gatherings men representing the government, military-industrial, and financial sectors meet and make major policy decisions.

The Manhattan project, which produced the first atomic bombs, was conceived at the Grove in 1942. Other decisions made at the Grove include who our presidential candidates will be. There are speeches, known as Lakeside Talks, wherein high-ranking officials disseminate information which is not available to the public-at-large.

What are the topics of discussion over the years at the Lakeside Talks?

The 1991 talks included:

Joseph Califano
HEW Secretary, Carter Administration
Who Lives, Who Dies, Who Pays
Former German Prime Minister
Elliot Richardson

Americas Health Care Revolution:
Helmut Schmidt
The Enormous Problems of the 21st Century
Nixon and Reagan Administrations

Defining a New World Order
Secretary of the Navy, Reagan Administration
Richard Cheney
Major Defence Problems of the 21st Century
Whats not right about this?

John Lehman
Smart Weapons
Present Secretary of Defence

When powerful people work together, they become even more powerful. The Grove membership is wealthy, and becoming more so, while the middle class is steadily becoming poorer. This close-knit group determines whether prices rise or fall (by their control of the banking system, money supply, and markets), and they make money whichever way markets fluctuate. They determine what our rights are and which laws have effect, by appointing judges. They decide who our highest officials shall be by consensus among themselves, and then selling candidates to us via the media which they own. Important issues and facts are omitted from discussion in the press, or slanted to suit their goals, but they are discussed frankly at the Grove.

Is there true democracy when so much power is concentrated in so few hands? Is there any real difference between the public and private sectors when cabinet members come from the boardrooms of large corporations? Is the spending of billions on weapons, which are by consensus no longer needed, really the will of the people? Or is it the will of General Electric, General Dynamics, and the other weapons contractors represented at the Grove?

What can I do to make a difference?

Educate yourself about the Grove and its inhabitants, and the true nature of the power structure in the world. Then educate your friends. Since most major newspapers and broadcast stations are owned by insiders, be wary of everything you hear in the press. If you can, participate in protest activities during the July retreat.

During the ceremony globalist leaders from across North America and the rest of the world watch as a black garbed boatman delivers the effigy of a human being to be burned at the feet of the 40-50ft tall stone owl god by robe-clad druid-like priests. Participants openly worship the owl and scream for the burning death of the human effigy.

Participants openly worshiped the owl. It appeared that low-level Acolytes were dressed in black and red robes, with higher-level priests in combinations of gold, silver and red. The high priest in silver and red robes repeatedly worshiped the owl, which he said was a symbol of Babylon and Tyre. The male-only elitist gathering chants and screams for the death of Care symbolized by a human body.

References and images of the owl are consistent throughout the grove, including an owl logo on the cocktail napkins, and the words The Owl are inscribed on the vehicles that transport people about the camp. The owl worldwide has been used as a symbol of the god of death, misfortune and human sacrifice. From Babylon to the ancient Druids the owl god has tasted its share of human blood.

KNIGHTS OF MALTA (ROMAN CATHOLIC)

The RCC Knights of Malta started out as the Order of John. They were a group of Crusaders. One of the first Secret Societies was formed by the Roman Catholic Church. It was called the Order of St. John, they were from Jerusalem. They became the Knights Hospitaller, which were founded after the First Crusade (1096-1099), after the capture of Jerusalem in 1099. Then their name was changed to the Knights of Rhodes, who became the Knights of Malta. These former Knights Templar began taking on the names of the different Islands where they resided. The De Villiers were a famous family from France. Jean De Villier was the 22nd Grand Master of the Knights Malta (1285-1293). Philippe was the 44th Grand Master of the Knights Malta (1521-1534).

The Grand Council of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta, 1960. The Knights of Malta are headquartered in Rome, these Knights of the Papal Caesar control the Banking Industry, and Military Complexes of the world. They oversee Chase Manhattan Bank with branches in Moscow and New York. They rule the International Intelligence Community, once the KGB in the East and the CIA in the West, in restoring the despotism of the Dark Ages. "The Knights Malta use variations of the Maltese Cross", otherwise known in the occult as "The Cross of Horus", as one of their main demonic symbols. The Roman Catholic Church uses the same symbol, not coincidence.

The Freemasons are in the foreground while the Jesuits and Knights of Malta are in the background.

Not long ago the head of the Knights of Malta was the Cardinal of New Yorks St, Patricks Cathedral, Archbishop of New York. Edward M Egan. This ugly place is the largest decorated gothic-style Catholic Cathedral in the USA.

The following is a short list of the Initial Membership of the Knights of Malta compiled by Eric Samuelson JD:
General Allavena, George W Anderson, James Jesus Angelton, Julian Allason, Roberto Alejos Arzu, Andrew Bertie, Elmer Bobst, Charles J Bonaparte, Prince Valerio Borghese, Dr. Barry Bradly, Nicholas Brady, Monsignor M Brini, Pat Buchan, James Buckley, William F Buckley Jr, Precott Bush Jr., Frank Capra, Willian Casey, Gustavo Cisneros, Cardinal Terence Cooke, Gerald Coughlin, Cartha DeLoach, Giscard d'Estaing, Bill Donovan, Allen Dulles, Avery Dulles, Archbishop Edward Egan, Count Franz Egon, John Farrell, Francis D Flanagan Flynn, General Alexander Haig, Baron Conrad Hilton, Henrich Himmler, J Edgar Hoover, Joseph Kennedy, Senator Ted Kennedy, Sir Stewart Menzies, Prince Angelo di Mojana, Baron Luigi Parrill, Henry Luce, Frank Sinatra, Cardinal Francis Spellman, Prince Anton Turkul. Sources are: Tim & Barb Aho, Michael Baigent, Richard Leigh & Henry Lincoln. (The Messianic Legacy 1986 & Vatican Assassins 2001).

SKULL AND BONES, "THE ORDER", "CHAPTER 322"

The Skull & Bones Secret Society was brought over from Germany (associated with the 33rd Supreme Council of World-Wide Masonry). The Illuminati of the German Secret Society established it, although members deny the reality. An American chapter of this German Secret Society Order was founded in 1833 at Yale University in Connecticut by General William Huntington Russell and Alphonso Taft, who in 1876, became Secretary of War I for the Grant Administration. Alphonso Taft was the father of William Howard Taft, the only man to be both President and Chief Justice of the United States.

The counterpart secret society of Princeton, is called Rhodes Scholar. Rhodes Scholar was established by Cecil Rhodes. Many say the Masons are the front for both of them and most other Secret Societies, originally established as the Knights Templar of old.

Those on the inside know it as "The Order". Others have known it for more than 150 years as "Chapter 322" of the German Secret Society. It is for legal purposes known as "The Order", incorporated as "The Russell Trust" in 1856. It was also known as the "Brotherhood of Death", and "Bones-men". Those who make light or fun of it, jokingly call it Skull & Bones" or "Bones". They use the skull & bones logo with 322 underneath it. It stands for Gen. 3:22 Then the LORD God said, "Behold, the man has become like one of Us, knowing good and evil; and now, he might stretch out his hand, and take also from the tree of life, and eat, and live forever". They believe this verse to mean that they are at the same level as Yahveh. They have become gods.

In reality, the Skull and Bones Cross symbol represents Jupiter and Osiris (Anubis), who were the gods of death.

The distinguished leader of this group is known as "Uncle Toby", and the shortest member is called "Little Devil", who dresses in a satanic costume. Another dresses up as the founding member Elijah Yaleksi, and another as Donn K Holtyna.

Initiation

Very briefly; the Skull and Bones initiation night is called "Tap Night". The prospective initiates wear a suit and tie to this special event. During the party someone comes up to a chosen perspective member and asks if he wants to become a member. If he says yes, he has a black bag placed over his head and this neophyte is taken away into a special chamber.

- A) He is put in a circle with other initiates, and men dressed like the devil and other demonic characters.
- B) They are made to strip naked and fight each other while the other members look on.
- C) After this they are placed naked in a coffin and told to offer up detailed descriptions of their entire sexual activities of the past.
- D) Then they read the societies oath out loud and drink a red bisque fluid which represents blood, out of a skull.
- E) Then the master of the coven slaps the new member across the face with a whip called "the devils tail".
- F) He is made to kneel down before a man wearing white shoes, dressed to represent the Pope, with his right foot resting on a human skull. He must then kiss the foot of the symbolic Pope. At that moment he becomes an "bones-man", an official member of the coven, acknowledging the Roman Catholic Church's authority in the satanic realm.

Once initiated, these men are introduced to powerful people (businessman, politicians, CEO'S, leaders of all kinds of financial institutions, including cults and occults, from all over the world. They are given access to huge mansions of the rich and famous around the globe.

When a new member is initiated into The Order, he says; "Tonight I will die to the world and be born again into The Order", and he will henceforth refer to it. The Order is a world unto itself in which he will have a new name and fourteen new brothers, also with new names. This is exactly what Satanic coven members do when they join a coven. The British chapter was founded at a University, Oxford University, and All Souls College at Oxford. The British element is called "The Group". The Group links to the Jewish equivalent through the Rothschilds in Britain (Lord Rothschild was an original member of Rhodes inner circle). The Order in the US links to the Guggenheim, Schiff and Warburg families. There were no Jews at all in The Order until very recently.

Skull and Bones was also called the "Brotherhood of Death", and "Bones-men".

SKULL AND CROSSBONES MEANING AND ORIGINS

The skull and crossbones symbol originated with the Christian Military Order - the Knights Templars.

It was later used as a symbol of death and used to denote poison bottles. Pirates adapted to terrorize their potential victims.

The skull and crossbones symbol represents...

Death
Poison
Sacrifice
Rebellion

... and was a reflection on mortality.

symbolage.com

Three US Presidents are members: William Howard Taft (27th President), George Bush Sr (41st President), and George W Bush (43rd President), along with numerous senators and Ambassadors like William Whitney, John Kerry, (former Secretary of State), and CIA's Henry Luce are/were members.

For example: Daniel C Gilman (1831), a founding member and president of the prestigious Johns Hopkins University, was a prominent member of Skull and Bones. And the list goes on.

The members are not allowed to say they are members of the secret society. During their initiations they do some extremely strange sexual acts while placed in a coffin in front of the other members.

A recent President of the United States, George Walker Bush junior, is, like his father, a member of the "Order of skull and bones", a secret society organization on the campus of Yale University.

The active members in 1833 had enough influence to push their sons and relatives into "The Order" and there is significant inter-marriage among the families. These families fall into two major groups. First we find old time American families, second, we find families who acquire wealth.

In brief, "The Order" looks like three segments:

- 1) The outer circles is made up of large open organizations with some membership coming from "the Order". The Council of Foreign Relations is the largest organization in the outer circle. Another is the Trilateral Commission which has only 200 members worldwide, with only about 70 in the United States. It was founded by David Rockefeller in 1973.
- 2) The inner circle is made up of one or more secret societies like Chapter 332
- 3) The inner core is a Secret Society within a Secret Society.

This is the inner decision making core. We cannot prove it exists, but logic suggests that some members of the inner circle will form an exclusive committee, an action group, an inner core. The Order gets the ball rolling in new organizations, puts in the First President or Chairman and the ideas and then, when operations are rolling along, often just fades out of the picture. In United Nations we find, for example, that Archibald McLeash was the brains behind the constitution of the UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific & Cultural Organization), organization. A key penetration is the Union Theological Seminary, affiliated with Columbia University in New York. This Seminary, a past subject of investigation for Communist infiltration, has close links to "The Order".

The major establishment law firms in New York are saturated with The Order members. There has been a significant penetration by members of "The Order" into communications industry also. They have also manipulated their way into the Federal Reserve System, the White House, Politics and Government throughout America. There are Presidents, Congressmen, football players, magazine publishers, Supreme Court Judges, Secretary of State, CIA, etc. The Order has made tremendous headway with names like Pres. Taft, Pres. Bush, Stimson, Chafee, Lovett, Whitney, Bundy, and so on. All of these are controlled by The Order. You can say that sitting at their Round Table is: The Council of Foreign Relations, The United Nations, The Bilderberg Group, The Club of Rome, Royal Institute of International Affairs, and the Trilateral Commission.

All these men got their start there in the dark making blood oaths and participating in horrific pagan rituals of all kinds. In one common ritual alone the newly initiated members make a blood oath, and lie in a coffin, then kiss the head of the Skull and Bones mascot as they bow before it. Rumors have it that this genuine human skull is actually the skull of Geronimo the great Indian chief. They believe that the skull and bones of powerful people have secret powers that can pass onto the recipient bowing down and kissing it, much like the Roman Catholic Priests believe. Every year 1500 applications are accepted to join the club, but only 15 are selected (tapped), according to their rules.

The Order

The activities (Modus Operandi), of The Order are directed towards changing our society, changing the world, to bring about a New World Order. This will be a planned order with heavily restricted individual freedom, without Constitutional protection, without national boundaries or cultural distinction. The Roman Catholic Jesuits, who control all Secret Societies directly or indirectly around the world have FASCISM as their foundation of controlling the world. The following is a brief description of Fascism.

In Fascism the elements to be controlled are:

Education	How the population of the future will behave.
Money	The means of holding wealth and exchanging goods.
Law	The authority to enforce the will of the state, a world law, and a world court is needed for a world state.
Politics	The direction of the state.

Economy	The creation and distribution of wealth.
History	What people believe happened in the past.
Psychology	The demonic means of controlling how people think.
Philanthropy	So that people think well of the controllers.
Medicine	The power over health, life, and death.
Religion	The peoples spiritual beliefs, the spur of action for many.
Media	What people know and learn about current events.

The objective of the Order is neither "left" nor "right". "Left" and "right" are artificial devices to bring about change, and the extremes of political left and political right are vital elements in a process of controlled change. They control both left and right sides, known as Hegelian dialectic. The answer to this seeming political puzzle lies in Hegelian Dialectic. The Jesuits and all those under their control serve neither left nor right, they just use the created problems to get more and more control over the people by appearing to make things better. This conflict between sides is essential to bring about change. Today this process can be identified in the literature of the Satanic Trilateral Commission where "change" is promoted and "conflict management" is termed the means to bring about this change.

HEGELIAN DIALECTIC

In the Hegelian system conflict is essential. Furthermore, Hegel, from which we get the name of the system, and systems based on Hegel, the State is absolute. The philosophy behind it all is comes from both Hegel and Kants. The European Union to this day honors them both as the founders of the European agenda. The State requires complete obedience from the individual citizen. An individual does not exist for himself in these so-called organic systems but only to perform a role in the operation of the State. He finds freedom only in obedience to the State. There was no freedom in Hitler's Germany, there is no freedom for the individual under Marxism, neither will there be in the New World Order. If it sounds like George Orwells 1984 description, it is indeed.

THE TRILATERAL COMMISSION..ROCKEFELLER'S

The Trilateral Commission was established in 1973. Its founder and primary financial angel was international financier, David Rockefeller, longtime chairman of the Rockefeller family-controlled Chase Manhattan Bank and undisputed overlord of his family's global corporate empire.

Rockefeller's idea for establishing the commission emerged after he had read a book entitled Between Two Ages written by an Establishment scholar, Prof. Zbigniew Brzezinski of Columbia University.

In his book Brzezinski proposed a vast alliance between North America, Western Europe and Japan. According to Brzezinski, changes in the modern world required it.

"Resist as it might," Brzezinski wrote elsewhere, "the American system is compelled gradually to accommodate itself to this emerging international context, with the U.S. government called upon to negotiate, to guarantee, and, to some extent, to protect the various arrangements that have been contrived even by private business."

In other words, it was necessary for the international upper class to band together to protect its interests, and to ensure, in the developed nations, that political leaders were brought to power who would ensure that the global financial interests (of the Rockefeller's and the other ruling elites) would be protected over those of the hoi polloi.

POCANTICO HILLS CONFABS

Although the initial arrangements for the commission were laid out in a series of meetings held at the Rockefeller's famous Pocantico Hills estate outside New York City, Rockefeller first introduced the idea of the commission at an annual meeting of the Bilderberg group, this one held in Knokke, Belgium in the spring of 1972.

The Bilderberg group is similar to the Trilateral Commission in that it is funded and heavily influenced by the Rockefeller empire, and composed of international financiers, industrialists, media magnates, union bosses, academics and political figures.

However, the much older Bilderberg group's membership is strictly limited to participants from the United States, Canada and Western Europe: i.e. the NATO alliance.

The Trilateral Commission was unique, though, in that it brought the Japanese ruling elite into the inner councils of the global power brokers, a recognition of Japan's growing influence in the world economic and political arena.

RULING CLASSES UNITE

"The Commission's purpose is to engineer an enduring partnership among the ruling classes of North America, Western Europe and Japan -- hence the term 'Trilateral' -- in order to safeguard the interests of Western capitalism in an explosive world. The private commission is attempting to mould public policy and construct a framework for international stability in the coming decades.

"To put it simply, Trilateralists are saying: The people, governments and economies of all nations must serve the needs of multinational banks and corporations.

"In short, Trilateralism is the current attempt by ruling elites to manage both dependence and democracy -- at home and abroad."

Another Trilateral critic, now-retired Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), views the commission as a Rockefeller family operation through and through. According to Goldwater:

"The Trilateral organization created by David Rockefeller was a surrogate -- the members selected by Rockefeller, its purposes defined by Rockefeller, its funding supplied by Rockefeller. David Rockefeller screened and selected every individual who was invited to participate."

PICKING POLICYMAKERS

David Rockefeller and Brzezinski then began the process of selecting from the "Trilateral" nations the several hundred elite power brokers who would be permitted to join in Trilateral policymaking in the coming years.

One of the commission's primary goals was to place a Trilateral-influenced president in the White House in 1976, and to achieve that goal it was necessary to groom an appropriate candidate who would be willing to cooperate with Trilateral aims.

Rockefeller and Brzezinski selected a handful of well-known liberal Democrats and a scattering of Republicans (primarily of the liberal-internationalist bent) to serve on the commission.

And in an effort to give regional balance to the commission Rockefeller invited the then-obscure one-term Democratic governor of Georgia, Jimmy Carter, to join the commission.

ROCKEFELLER CENTER SOUTH

Rockefeller had longtime ties to the local Atlanta political and economic Establishment. In fact, much of Rockefeller's personal investment portfolio is in Atlanta real estate. (According to David Horowitz, co-author of The Rockefeller's, "Atlanta is Rockefeller Center South.")

And Rockefeller himself had once even invited Carter to dine with him at the Chase Manhattan Bank several years before, as early as 1971, the year Carter began serving as governor.

Carter very definitely impressed Rockefeller and Brzezinski, more so than another Southern Democrat, Florida Gov. Reuben Askew, also selected to serve on the commission and viewed, like Carter, as a possible Trilateral candidate.

In fact, according to Brzezinski, "It was a close thing between Carter and Askew, but we were impressed that Carter had opened up trade offices for the state of Georgia in Brussels and Tokyo. That seemed to fit perfectly into the concept of the Trilateral."

Carter, in fact, like Askew, did announce for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination, but because of Rockefeller's interest, Carter had the inside shot.

So much so that in a speech at the commission's first annual meeting in Kyoto, Japan in May of 1975, Rockefeller's man Brzezinski promoted the then-still obscure Carter to his fellow Trilateralists as an ideal presidential candidate.

CUT AND DRIED

From that point on, it was all cut and dried. According to Goldwater: "Rockefeller and Brzezinski found Carter to be their ideal candidate. They helped him win the Democratic nomination and the presidency.

"To accomplish this purpose they mobilized the money-power of the Wall Street bankers, the intellectual influence of the academic community -- which is subservient to the wealth of the great tax-free foundations -- and the media controllers represented in the membership of the CFR and the Trilateralists."

(The aforementioned Council on Foreign Relations -- is another Rockefeller-financed foreign policy pressure group similar to the Trilateralists and the Bilderberg group, although the CFR is composed solely of American citizens.)

(In his book The Carter Presidency and Beyond, published in 1980 by the Ramparts Press, Prof. Laurence H. Shoup devotes an entire chapter to demonstrating how the Trilateral-linked and Trilateral-controlled Establishment media promoted the presidential candidacy in 1976 of the then-obscure Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter.)

Carter, of course, campaigned as a "populist" -- as a "man of the people" -- as an "outsider" with no ties to the Establishment. The fact is, however, Carter, who said he'd never lie, was an elitist, an insider, the Trilateral Commission's "man on the white horse."

And with the power of the commission and the Rockefeller empire and its media influence behind him, Carter made his way to the presidency, establishing the first full-fledged Trilateral administration, appointing numerous Trilateralists to key policymaking positions and carrying out the Trilateral agenda to the hilt.

KNIGHT'S OF COLUMBUS

The Knights of Columbus (KOC), are a Secret Society of the men of the Roman Catholic church. They supposedly help the community by raising funds for local causes. This kind of evil help, in the Bible, is known as works of "the angel of light". These so-called Christians take oaths that are written by the devil himself.

"The Knights of Columbus were founded by Father Michael J McGivney, curate of St. Mary's Church, in 1882. In their initiative service of four degrees, they work in collusion with the Hierarchy, and are the heart and soul in politics for the roman Catholic Church. This fact is well known to political machines and non Catholic politicians, whose candidates must receive the approval of Rome and the Knights before they dare nominate them for either dog pound or presidency. The KOC principal business is politics, aye, Jesuitical politics." (A menace to the nation, Jeremiah J Crowley). They use Fascism images in their materials and during their demonic activities.

The following is part of the 4th Degree oath that members swear to.

"I, _____, now in the presence of Almighty God, the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Blessed Michael the Archangel, the Blessed St. John the Baptist, the Holy Apostles, Peter and Paul, and all the Saints, sacred hosts of Heaven, and to you, my Ghostly Father, the Superior General of the Society of Jesus, founded by St. Ignatius Loyola, in the Pontification of Paul the Third, and continued to the present, do by the womb of the Virgin, the matrix of God, and the rod of Jesus Christ, declare and swear that his Holiness, the Pope, is Christ's Vice-regent, and is the true and only head of the Catholic or Universal Church throughout the earth; and that by the virtue of the keys of binding and loosing, given to his Holiness by my Saviour, Jesus Christ, he hath power to depose heretical kings, princes, states, commonwealths and governments, all being illegal without his sacred confirmation, and that they may be safely destroyed.

"Therefore, to the utmost of my power, I shall and will defend this doctrine and his Holiness' right and customs against all usurpers of the heretical or Protestant authority whatever, especially the Lutheran Church of Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, and the now pretended authority of the Church of England and Scotland, the branches of the same now established in Ireland, and on the continent of America and elsewhere and all adherents in regard that they may usurped and heretical opposing the sacred Mother Church of Rome.

"I do now renounce and disown any allegiance due to any heretical king, prince or state named Protestant or Liberals, or obedience to any of their laws, magistrates or officers.

"I do further declare that the doctrine of the Churches of England and Scotland, of the Calvinists, Huguenots, and others of the name of Protestants or Masons to be damnable, and they themselves to be damned who will forsake the same.

"I do further declare that I will help, assist and advise all or any of his Holiness' agents in any place wherever I should be, in Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Ireland, or America, or in any other kingdom or territory I shall come to, and do my utmost to extirpate the heretical Protestant or Masonic doctrines and to destroy all their pretended powers, legal or otherwise.

"I do further promise and declare, that notwithstanding I am dispensed with to assume any religion heretical for the propagating of the Mother Church's interest to keep secret and private all her agents' counsels from time to time, as they may instruct me, and not to divulge, directly or indirectly, by word, writing, or circumstances whatever; but to execute all that shall be proposed, given in charge, or discovered unto me, by you, my Ghostly Father or any of this sacred order.

"I do further promise and declare that I will have no opinion or will of my own or any mental reservation whatsoever, even as a corpse or cadaver, but will unhesitatingly obey each and every command that I may receive from my superiors in the militia of the Pope and of Jesus Christ.

"That I will go to any part of the world wither-so-ever I may be sent, to the frozen regions North, jungles of India, to the centres of civilization of Europe, or to the wild haunts of the barbarous savages of America without murmuring or repining, and will be submissive in all things whatsoever is communicated to me.

"I do further promise and declare that I will, when opportunity presents, make and wage relentless war, secretly and openly, against all heretics, Protestants, and Masons, as I am directed to do, to extirpate them from the face of the whole earth; and that I will spare neither age, sex, nor condition, and that I will hang, burn, waste, boil, flay, strangle, and bury alive these infamous heretics; rip up the stomachs and wombs of their women, and crush their infants' heads against the walls in order to annihilate forever their execrable race.

"That when the same cannot be done openly, I will secretly use the poison cup, the strangulation cord, the steel of the poniard, or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honor, rank, dignity or authority of the person or persons whatever may be their condition in life, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed so to do by any agents of the Pope or superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Father of the Society of Jesus.

"In confirmation of which I hereby dedicate my life, soul, and all corporal powers, and with the dagger which I now receive I will subscribe my mane written in my blood in testimony thereof; and should I prove false or weaken in my determination, may my brethren and fellow soldiers of the militia of the Pope cut off my hands and feet and my throat from ear to ear, by belly opened and sulfur burn therein with all the punishment that can be inflicted upon me on earth and my soul shall be tortured by demons in eternal hell forever.

"That I will in voting always vote for a K. or C in preference to a Protestant, especially a Mason, and that I will leave my party so to do; that if two Catholics are on the ticket I will satisfy myself which is the better supporter of Mother church and vote accordingly.

"That I will not deal with or employ a Protestant if in my power to deal with or employ a Catholic. That I will place Catholic girls in Protestant families that a weekly report may be made of the inner movements of the heretics.

"That I will provide myself with arms and ammunition that I may be in readiness when the word is passed, or I am commanded to defend the church either as an individual or with the militia of the Pope.

"All of which, I _____, do swear by the blessed Trinity and blessed sacrament which I am now to receive to perform and on part to keep this, my oath.

"In testimony hereof, take this most holy and blessed Sacrament of the Eucharist and witness the same further with my name written with the point of this dagger dipped in my own blood and seal in the face of this holy sacrament."

Documented and copied verbatim as it appears in the United States Congressional Record, House Bill 1523, Feb 15, 1913.

SONS OF LIBERTY

The Sons of Liberty were a secret society who had many rituals. They had secret code words, medals, and symbols like other occult groups. The Sons of Liberty (started in 1765), were originally a grassroots group of instigators and provocateurs in colonial America who used an extreme form of civil disobedience—threats, and in some cases actual violence—to intimidate loyalists and outrage the British government. The goal of the radicals was to push moderate colonial leaders into a confrontation with the Crown.

Their most famous act of disobedience was destroying 92,000 pounds of British tea in Boston Harbor in December 1773. The Boston Tea Party, as the act would become known, was one of the key events that pushed the colonies and the British government toward war.

Samuel and John Adams, John Hancock, and Paul Revere were among its prominent leaders. They were commonly an effective but violent group, referred to as the "Liberty Boys". Adams and Hancock in particular were so loathed and feared by the British that when General Thomas Gage offered amnesty to Bostonians who stopped their resistance in 1775, he made a point of excluding the two men, "whose offences are of too flagitious a nature" not to be punished severely. During this time, the Sons' core views evolved, Carp says. They rejected the British notion that they had fought the French and Indian War on behalf of the colonists, and that as a result, the Americans were obligated to pay for continued upkeep of British soldiers in North America. But beyond that, they also rejected the authority of the British Parliament to make laws for Americans. Most of all, they argued the British government could not compel Americans to pay taxes. The Sons of Liberty ended in 1774 when the 13 original Colonies formed their own governments.

Picture of a Stamp Act Riot in New York. This image of American colonialists rioting in protest against the unpopular Stamp Act shows them carrying a banner bearing the words 'The Folly of England and the Ruin of America'.

KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN CIRCLE (KGO)

Knights of the Golden Circle, (1834-1861), a semi-military secret society that was active in the Midwestern states during the American Civil War. They were affiliated with the Confederate Government and supposedly hid much of its treasures (gold & silver), during the Civil War.

In 1859 George Bickley, a freebooter and adventurer, launched a fraternal order which proposed the establishment of military colonies of Americans in Mexico. The eventual goal of the plan was the annexation of all of Mexico to the United States. This would, according to Bickley, protect the Southern states from being overwhelmed by the industrial and commercial interests of the North. Widespread publicity in Southern expansionist newspapers called attention to the new order, and Bickley soon claimed it had 65,000 members. He later increased his claims to 115,000, but such numbers were widely dismissed as fanciful.

Fractured by ideology and economy, this war sought to unify a divided nation. The order itself had little influence in the South and had few or no Northern adherents. With the outbreak of the war, however, Republicans charged that Democrats who opposed the conduct of the war were influenced by, or were members of, the Knights. The order and its alleged influence sparked the formation of Union League clubs to carry on counter-propaganda. Although civil and military authorities made strenuous efforts to uncover the order and charges abounded in newspapers and in political oratory, no single member or unit of the organization was ever conclusively brought to light.

A successor organization, the Sons of Liberty, was alleged to have taken its place. Some 250,000 to 300,000 oath-bound members were said to have existed in the Midwest. Copperheads Fernando Wood, former Democratic mayor of New York City, and Clement L. Vallandigham of Ohio were reputed to be the chief officers. They opposed the U.S. government's war policy, actively encouraged desertion, prevented enlistments, and resisted the draft. Receiving reports of the activities of the Order of American Knights (a new name for the alleged order) in Missouri and Illinois, U.S. Pres. Abraham Lincoln sent his secretary, John Hay, to investigate. The new charges, said Lincoln on receiving Hay's report, were "as puerile as the Knights of the Golden Circle." Treason trials against members of the Sons of Liberty in Indianapolis on the eve of the election of 1864 furnished campaign material for the Republicans. The leaders were sentenced to death or imprisonment by military commissions, but the sentences were suspended, and in 1866 the convictions were overturned by a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Clement L. Vallandigham, in full Clement Laird Vallandigham, (born July 29, 1820, Lisbon, Ohio, U.S.—died June 17, 1871, Lebanon, Ohio), politician during the American Civil War (1861–65) whose Southern sympathies and determined vendetta against the Federal government and its war policy resulted in his court-martial and exile to the Confederacy.

Admitted to the Ohio bar in 1842, Vallandigham was elected to the state legislature in 1845. While a member of the U.S. House of Representatives (1857–63), he was adamant against the principles and policies of the newly formed Republican Party, particularly as they related to the slavery issue. Of Southern ancestry, he idealized the Southern way of life, and he assumed leadership of the faction of Midwest Democrats, called Copperheads, who opposed the prosecution of the war against the South—a war they viewed as beneficial only to Eastern interests.

During the Civil War he bitterly attacked the administration of President Abraham Lincoln, charging that it was destroying not only the Constitution but civil liberty as well. He also became commander of the secret, antiwar Knights of the Golden Circle (later Sons of Liberty). In 1863 he made vigorous speeches in Ohio against the war and the government and consequently grew to be one of the most suspected and hated men in the North. He was arrested in May by military authorities for expressing treasonable sympathy with the enemy; tried and found guilty by a military commission, he was sentenced to imprisonment. Soon afterward Lincoln commuted his sentence to banishment behind Confederate lines.

Bored with exile in the South, Vollandigham made his way to Canada, where he continued his campaign of harassment from across the border. In September 1863 the Ohio Peace Democrats nominated him in absentia for governor, but resounding Union military victories at Gettysburg and Vicksburg in July ensured his decisive defeat at the polls. He returned illegally to Ohio in 1864 and took an active part in that year's election campaign. He also wrote part of the national Democratic platform in which the war was denounced as a failure.

After the war Vollandigham criticized the Radical Reconstruction policy of the Republicans as both unconstitutional and tyrannical, but in 1870 he recognized the uselessness of further opposition and urged his party to emphasize financial issues instead. He died the following year after accidentally shooting himself with a firearm that was an exhibit in a murder trial.

THE ODD FELLOWS

The Odd Fellows are one of the earliest and oldest fraternal societies, but the historical details of its foundations went strangely undocumented before the 18th century, creating some uncertainty about its name and origins. To understand what the “odd” in Odd fellows really means, we need to start with the order’s purpose. For as long as records show, this has been an organization solely aimed towards charity and helping the less fortunate. One of its most prominent symbols known as the “Triple Links” alludes to its motto, “Friendship, Love and Truth” – three words that aren’t hard to get behind in modern civil society. But not so long ago, such noble values were rare to come by.

The society was founded as a non-political and non-sectarian fraternal order, but of course, that hasn’t stopped religion, war and political beliefs getting in the way of progress. At the height of the “Golden Age of Fraternalism”, when as much as 40% of the adult population in the United States alone was estimated to be a member of at least one fraternal order, the Catholic church widely condemned secret societies, forbidding their pseudo-religious rituals and ceremonies. The Order of the Odd Fellows is no stranger to the conspiracies and rumours of witchcraft and satanic worship that may or may not take place behind closed doors.

Police have often been called to investigate multiple skeletons discovered hidden in Odd Fellows lodges which are used in the secret society’s initiation rituals. In 2001, the LA Times reported that the discovery of numerous “Jane Doe" skeletons at the order's fraternity halls in recent years had sparked outrage and police investigations across the country, including Missouri, Indiana, Pennsylvania Oklahoma and Nebraska.

A longtime Odd Fellow from New York revealed that the skeleton, or skull & bones, is a symbol of mortality for the order, and isn't to be seen by anyone until they've been initiated. Passwords and decrees are exchanged.

Another Odd Fellow speaking to the LA Times, preferring to remain tight-lipped on the subject said it's "a ceremony that is confined to the members, and if you're not a member, you don't discuss it."

Over the centuries, politics have also succeeded at dividing the order. In England, the Jacobean uprisings created new and separate branches according to political loyalties. Following the American Revolution, the American order split from the British, and in the aftermath of the American Civil War, it split again – the whites-only order staying in one camp and a new branch, open to people of any race, in the other.

Interestingly, the Order of the Odd Fellows became the first national fraternity to accept both men and women when it formed the Daughters of Rebekah in 1851. Eleanor Roosevelt would later become a member.

The predominantly African-American branches of Odd Fellows also functioned alongside a female auxiliary from the 1850s known as the Household of Ruth, which attracted nearly 100,000 members, including Georgia Dwell, the first female African-American Physician.

In 1922, the Odd fellows reported over 2,676,582 members, outnumbering the Freemasons. But then came the Great Depression. People simply couldn't afford memberships and lodges closed.

In order to increase membership and reach a younger generation, branches are absorbing female auxiliaries into the main order, leading to the idleness of the female-run orders like the Rebekahs, while also creating a more inclusive and gender-balanced fellowship overall. The IOOF now claims to have 600,000 active members in the United States. With international branches in 26 countries, members of the fraternity combined are estimated in the millions worldwide.

Much like the Freemasons, the Odd fellows liked to leave their mark with esoteric symbolism and clues in the architecture of buildings they constructed for their network. Perhaps there's an OOF lodge, or even an Odd fellow cemetery near you. There are some 10,000 lodges in the United States alone, dozens of which are also home to historical museums and small exhibitions across the country, holding collections of Odd Fellows regalia, archives for research, antique items and of course, oddities.. Many lodges still hold weekly meetings and today promise to be "a place for fellowship in all its forms.

The Odd Fellows is all about "the journey onward", as the famous Aleister Crowley taught. Aleister Crowley was a well known English OCCULTIST. The aspects of the Odd Fellows are most definitely spiritual, social, and psychological in nature. They believe in a change of consciousness, a raising of the perspective to a new height by the revelation of some discreet higher truth or wisdom by means of language of symbols and ritual drama. They have lots of secret symbols that only the initiated members are allowed to understand, in the same manner as the FreeMasons. They are set up like most other Secret Societies, they have an inner core Secret Society that works on the demonic side, surrounded by an out core Secret Society that appeals to outsiders as just a nice "Friendship, Love and Truth" fraternal organization. They promote their organization with a symbol of a "three linked chain" (FLT).

On the inside however, they refer to their god as a force symbolized as the "all seeing eye" of Horus, famous in all occult circles. The only requirement to join is that they are introduced into the club by another member, and believe in a "supreme being", that is never identified until after they join. They accept the "force" they worship as the origin of the "big bang". They are told to never talk about this unless they are part of the higher degrees. The four standard lodge degrees are: White degree, the Friendship or Pink degree, the Brotherly Love or Blue degree, and the Truth or Scarlet degree. Three of the most common symbols of the group are the "Eye of Horus", (All seeing eye), "FLT three link", (Friendship, Love and Truth), "Scythe", (Roman deity Saturn, Reaper), Hourglass, (symbolic of the balance of time), and "Skull and Bones", ("The Order").

DASYD MINISTRY "DO AS YESHUA DID" dasydministry.org Jerry Hennig (Jan/26)
Excerpt from the Paganism Book.